FOUR MINUS THREE

THE STORY

Barbara and her partner Heli lead a happy and loving family life with their two children, Fini and Thimo. As professional clowns, they don't take life too seriously and try to laugh at whatever doesn't work out. But when a tragic car accident takes Heli and the children, Barbara is left alone. The loss makes her question her belief in humor and hope, and the meaning of her own life. Yet Barbara faces her fate. Courageous and unconventional, she finds her own way of dealing with her grief. Step by step, she realizes that life goes on despite everything — if you dare to embrace it anew.

THE DIRECTOR

Adrian Goiginger, born in Salzburg, Austria in 1991, is a critically acclaimed writer and director. His debut feature The Best of All Worlds premiered at the Berlinale 2017 and won over 100 international awards, including Best European First Film at the Zlín Film Festival, Best Narrative Feature in New York, and five Austrian Film Awards. He also directed The Fox, based on the true story of his great grand-father departing into WWII with a fox cup in his motorcycle and Rickerl – Musik is höchstens a Hobby. By now, Goiginger is a regular winner at the Austrian, German, and Bavarian Film Awards and has built a strong fanbase among cinemagoers for his emotionally resonant storytelling and authentic characters.

DIRECTOR'S NOTE

I first read the synopsis of Four Minus Three at a time when my second child had just been born. My initial reaction was that the story of a woman who loses her husband and children in one fell swoop was too intense for me. It was only through Senad Halilbasic's first draft of the screenplay and his perspective on the story that I realized that it was more about hope and life after the accident than about telling a tragedy. That made me want to make this film at all costs. It was an incredibly demanding, emotional shoot for everyone, both in front of and behind the camera. I've rarely seen anyone commit to a role the way Valerie Pachner does: 100% emotionally invested in every take, regardless of the consequences. Robert Stadlober also brought so much personality, edge and humor to his character. It was very important for me to create the "clown world" as interesting as possible, without any clichés. For me this film is a testimony that undying love does exist.

Tilda's days are strictly regimented: studying, working at the supermarket checkout, swimming, looking after her little sister Ida – and on bad days, her mother too. The three of them live together in a small town that Tilda hates. Her friends are long gone, living in Amsterdam or Berlin; only Tilda has stayed back. Because someone has to be there for Ida, earn money, take responsibility. There is no father to speak of, and her mother is an alcoholic. But one day, things start to change: Tilda is offered the prospect of a PhD position in Berlin, and a future that promises freedom begins to shine. And Viktor appears, the big brother of Ivan, whom Tilda lost five years earlier. Viktor, who – just like her – always swims 22 lengths. But just as Tilda begins to believe that everything could turn out well, the situation at home spirals completely out of control...

EACH OF US

An outstanding historical drama by four acclaimed female European directors, uncovering the untold story of survival, resistance, and sisterhood in Ravensbrück — the only women's concentration camp — during the final days of WWII.

BY ANNE ZOHRA BERRACHED, NEUS BALLÚS, STINA WERENFELS AND ANNA JADOWSKA

---

THE STORY

Behind the walls of Ravensbrück, the only all-female Nazi concentration camp, thousands of women from over thirty countries try to survive during the last months of the war in 1945. Inspired by real life stories, this is the story of four of them: Gertrud, a German prisoner who was deported as an “Asocial”. After losing her daughter, she adopts an orphan child from the camp - Sofia, a girl whose survival instincts are as strong as her temper. In order to preserve her, Gertrud is ready to risk everything, but in one of her attempts to feed and protect her, she loses control and attacks one of the guards. Leah, a Jewish medical student, tries to survive by working in the infirmary under a false identity. There, she falls in love with Aga, a so-called “rabbit” - a Polish women subjected to medical experiments by the SS doctors, who is fighting back strongly. And Mar, a Catalan communist committed to resistance and sabotage, finds herself torn between her tasks, when she starts looking after Gertrud's daughter, too.

BY FELIX RANDAU

THE STORY

Autumn 1952: Committed journalist Hedda and her husband Winfried ambush Felix Kersten, former massage therapist to SS Reich Leader Himmler, on a train to Oslo. Kersten is said to have helped thousands of concentration camp prisoners to freedom during the Nazi era—at least according to his own account. But Hedda has her doubts. She considers Kersten a mythmaker who is using fabricated heroic deeds to put himself in the running for the Nobel Peace Prize. What begins as an interview develops into a tense, psychological cat-and-mouse game: Kersten, rhetorically brilliant and armed with alleged evidence, encounters a stubborn opponent who relentlessly confronts him with contradictions. As the conversation comes to a head, the announcement of the Nobel Peace Prize winner draws ever closer...

THE NOISE OF TIME

Two-time Academy Award-winning Christopher Hampton adapts Julian Barnes' masterpiece on D. Shostakovich into a riveting neo-noir thriller that is strikingly relevant today. Academy Award-nominee Jan Komasa directs.

BY JAN KOMASA

THE STORY

Moscow, 1936. At the age of 29, Dmitri Shostakovich ranks among the Soviet Union's most eminent composers. His works are performed the world over. But Stalin's Great Purge has been set in motion. Shostakovich's opera 'Lady Macbeth of Mtsensk' is disapproved by Stalin and the artist denounced by the communist party's publication 'Pravda'. While he is expecting his arrest and execution on a nightly basis, his only defenses are the staunch support of his wife Nita, his faithful friends and his own brand of deadpan gallows humour. And though he's saved from becoming another victim of the Great Terror, he will be firmly under the thumb of despotism: He is forced to represent Soviet values at a cultural conference in New York City, he is forced to join the Party, and he is forced to constantly weigh appeasement of those in power against the integrity of his music. When ultimately, his 'Fourth Symphony' is allowed to premiere, it's a triumph. And after years of absurd confusion, confrontation and concession, Shostakovich prevails: "Art is the whisper of history, heard above the noise of time."
